Change in Spring Yoga 2022 Broadcast Platform

We have learned that many people miss our Zoom broadcasts due to their preference not to create or manage an account. This insight was gained when broadcasting our bilingual class with Alliance Medical Ministry last month. A recent chat with an affiliate of Meals on Wheels of Wake County cited a similar tendency in their community. As a result, we are exploring Facebook Messenger as our choice to further open the door to free online classes. For all of our students, stay tuned to our social media channels, website and next month's newsletter. This is totally new to us and we welcome your feedback ASAP about this platform. Please contact Howie to share your thoughts.

Website Updates are in the Works

YCTY has made significant progress in revamping our website with new content and Spanish translation. This multi-month endeavor has involved several team members, with a special shout out to our translator and Saturday chair yoga teacher Amma Fandiño in Bogota, Colombia. While we have removed inactive content, there have been delays in the updating of our pictures. Visit our website, where you may learn about yoga in Spanish or English too! Just click on the flag. More updates are coming soon.

Recruiting Volunteer Team Members

Our team is growing as we return to in-person classes and refine online programming. To sustain our free programs for anyone to enhance their physical and emotional well-being, we seek volunteers to serve as

- active leaders and managers for marketing, fundraising, governance
- a photographer for in-person class images from the Raleigh area
- a Spanish translator for our blogs and media content

Also, we seek

- bilingual and English speaking yoga teachers near or in the Raleigh area for in-person classes. Teachers for these classes receive a stipend

Please contact Howie with any questions. You can start the ball rolling by visiting our website page to register. Your participation is welcomed.

Yoga Props in Search of New Homes

YCTY is looking for loving yogis to re-home our collection of new and gently (some once) used yoga props. The funds raised will support the ongoing production of free online classes. With a value of over $1500, our goal is to raise $800. Choose from 14 yummy bolsters, 100 colorful blocks, 38 comfy blankets, 44 various straps and 40+ medium and heavy mats. We look to sell locally (Triangle area) to avoid shipping and have the buyers do the pick up at YCTY's HQ in north Raleigh. Please contact Howie with any questions and offers.
